

Remote Authorization Method

Overview

This document describes the procedures and requirements for utilizing the Remote Authorization Method to access secure resources via the corporate network.

Purpose

The Remote Authorization Method enables authorized users to request and receive access permissions from a remote location, ensuring secure transactions and data integrity.

Authorization Process

1. User submits an access request using the designated online form (see below).
2. The system sends a verification code to the registered email address or phone number.
3. User enters the verification code to confirm their identity.
4. Upon successful verification, the system grants remote authorization and notifies the user.
